Our group consists of a number of the UK's leading compliance businesses which provide technology-enabled services across four main regulated safety sectors. Various closely related specialist compliance services can be accessed either singularly from one Marlowe company or in combination from a number of different specialists from across the group.

Marlowe currently employs over 2,200 people across the UK, provides services to approximately 15% of Britain's commercial properties and is increasingly attractive to clients who require a single outsourced, nationwide, provider of a comprehensive range of regulated health, environmental and safety services.

Our clients can be found in most office complexes, high streets and leisure facilities, manufacturing plants and industrial estates, and include SMEs, large corporates, facilities and property management providers, local authorities, NHS Trusts and FTSE 100 companies.

Marlowe's end-to-end compliance model

Marlowe can provide the full range of property-related compliance services right from conducting health & safety audits and assessments through to testing & treating a water system for bacteria, inspecting a kitchen extract system for safety, or certifying a fire detection system.

Our businesses operate as autonomous sector specialists but are all bound by our common channel to market. Typically, we sell our services to Health & Safety, Risk & Compliance, Facilities or Property Management professionals who are responsible for the safety and compliance of their organisations and the properties they occupy. As a result, we closely understand what these individuals care about and are equipped with the tools to succeed in compliance service markets. The vast majority of our competition only have the capabilities to provide a single service, usually only in a small region of the UK. We make attaining high standards of safety and compliance achievable for our clients through working with them across the whole of the UK and across a number of closely related compliance disciplines. Each of our services is delivered by independent specialist divisions of Marlowe who are leaders in their respective fields in their own right, so our customers know that they are always dealing with experts.

In a typical commercial facility, our end-to-end model means we can implement:

- Recurring health & safety audit and consultancy services with the aim of ensuring high standards of compliance and lowering risk
- Provision of software through which our customers can manage and monitor compliance
- Implementation of recurring testing and inspection regimes to ensure compliance on an ongoing basis across Fire Safety & Security, Water Treatment & Hygiene or Air Quality & Testing
- Marlowe is in a unique position in the UK of being able to provide this end-to-end commercial property compliance solution which assures total regulatory compliance

Marlowe is a well-established London Stock Exchange listed company which was formed to build a group of the leading specialists in their field with a vision to become the UK's most trusted name in the provision of regulated safety services.

Marlowe's unique strength is that it provides a range of closely related regulated inspection, testing and technology-enabled compliance services each of which is delivered by one of our specialist divisions.

Individually, these businesses are leaders in their fields but together form a group that can provide our customers with a comprehensive and integrated approach to their safety, regulatory compliance and the upkeep of the building systems they rely on. That means more convenience, better across the board compliance, greater consistency and the benefits of a trusted in-depth relationship.

More importantly, our size, range and extensive national footprint gives our customers the peace of mind that comes from knowing that they can rely on Marlowe to deliver those mission critical services that are so vital to them every day of the year in every part of the UK.

of all UK councils and Local Authorities

PUBLIC SECTOR

We test, inspect and maintain ducting, ventilation and extract systems for some of the largest council organisations in the UK. We test fire & smoke dampers and clean ventilation extract systems so that air quality is improved and safety is assured.

Ventilation Compliance Services

DCUK FM, the UK's leading Ventilation Hygiene & Compliance specialist, makes up part of the Air Testing & Quality division of Marlowe Critical Services.

We ensure that your systems are safe and compliant and that your sites are appropriately maintained (to comply with Section 17 of the Fire Safety Regulatory Reform Order) by carrying out essential ventilation, ductwork and kitchen extract cleaning & management. We are the UK's leading specialist in fire damper testing, inspections and maintenance, in accordance with BS 9999:2017.

Unmaintained ducting systems are one of the primary causes of fires and the spread of fire throughout buildings. Unhygienic ducting & ventilation systems, which have not been regularly maintained, can lead to poor air quality which does not comply with TR19 causing harm to the health and wellbeing of a buildings occupants.

We continually lead the market in innovation and can supply high-tech ductwork deposit monitoring systems providing complete compliance, safety and air quality for clients nationwide.

WHAT WE DO

Our BESA accredited technicians are trained in-house at our state of the art training centre to implement a compliance service which ensures that your ventilation systems are safe, clean and compliant, that your fire and smoke dampers are operating in line with regulation and the air quality in your premises conforms with TR19 standards.

of commercial kitchen fires are caused by a failure to properly clean and maintain kitchen extract systems

HOTELS & HOSPITALITY

This flagship hotel chain cares about safety and is fully aware of the specific risks that exist in large hotels. We partner with them to ensure fire safety, ventilation hygiene and to manage their water compliance. We test their kitchen suppression systems, sample their water systems for legionella and clean and manage their extract systems to ensure compliance and the comfort of their guests.

Compliance Services for SMEs

We provide compliance services for SMEs providing you with the peace of mind that your businesses approach to HR & Health & Safety remains robust and compliant.

As a specialist and highly skilled consultancy, based in Central London, we build relationships with our clients to ensure they have all the HR, Employment Law and Employee Related Health & Safety support that they need to enable them to focus on succeeding in their core business.

All our clients are looked after by a dedicated business partner, as well as the wider team of specialists. We spend time with you in your office to ensure that we tailor our service to complement your business goals and objectives. Our team consists of a diverse group of highly qualified, skilled and capable specialists who understand the issues faced by our clients and have the insight and ability to advise them.

Whilst our clients work across many different sectors, from care homes to charities and technology businesses, they all work in dynamic environments and want to focus on their business goals rather than being distracted by their people and health & safety risks and constraints.

WHAT WE DO

We provide expert, tailored and friendly HR & Employment Law services allowing you to deal with any issues that might arise; contracts, a difficult employee, or even a full-on crisis. Our Health & Safety service ensures that you are completely compliant and that your organisation has the credentials it needs to keep your people safe and demonstrate compliance.
